Reptiles and amphibians are among the world's most fascinating wildlife groups to study. From tadpoles to T. rex, salamanders to snakes, this adventure begins in January of 2009. It will examine amphibians such as toads, frogs and salamanders, as well as reptiles such as the tortoise, crocodylian and lizard/snake families. As with all Aerie programs, live animals will be shown to supplement the engaging multi-media program.

Visit Perry's web site, www.perryconway.com, and click on Multi-Media Wildlife Programs for additional programs and information. Presentations are adaptable for K-8 and always include LIVE ANIMALS.
